

health-on-line

Based in Bournemouth, Health-on-Line are one of the area's largest employers, offering a variety of roles. Delivering outstanding customer experience is more than a goal at Health-on-line, it's the driving force behind everything they do and everything they stand for.

The HR Team recognise the importance of finding the right people and believe that real success is achievable through commitment and dedication. They reward those that go the extra mile and help individuals to achieve their potential.

Sophie Nutley is the HR Manager at Health-on-Line. She says "Professional, reliable and personable are the three words that I would use to best describe the service that we receive from Rock Recruitment. Their innovative approach to recruitment always ensures that we receive the best quality candidates. Rock's moto is 'we are different' and I would definitely agree with this."

Professional, reliable and personable:
their innovative approach ensures
we get the best quality candidates

Hannah Darby is the lead Recruitment Consultant working with Health-on-Line. She has developed an understanding of the culture at the company, which helps her to select suitable candidates. Hannah comments "Rock have vast experience in recruiting for call centre and sales environments, enabling us to select individuals with the personality, approach and experience to be successful. Also, Health-on-Line offer exceptional training and benefits which makes them an excellent employer to work for and to recruit for."

